

We're not suppliers, we're an extension of your team.
Same commitment, same objective. Complementary skills.

Some of our clients have worked with Ridgemount for decades. Keeping it fresh is about re-evaluating the mix of services: listening, re-working and developing new approaches to familiar challenges. The last year has seen exceptional campaigns mixing technically adept digital delivery with creative storytelling and amazing design.

Our clients don't stay with us because we deliver what they expect.
They stay because we surprise them.

“ Their knowledge means they require very little input to produce content that is timely, insightful and aligned with our strategic objectives.”

H+H

“ We love how they just dive in and try new things as opportunities arise.”

Milwaukee

“ Once again they've opened up a direction we wouldn't have taken on our own.”

Prysmian

“ The results speak for themselves, and we couldn't have achieved this level of impact without them.”

Catnic

“ They're easy to work with, they push back when they should, and I'd recommend them without thinking twice.”

Viega

“ They worked as an extension of our team, and our continued partnership is a result of that.”
